HONOLULU'S PLAYHOUSE.

The new program at the Orpheum last night was well received. A fine audience was present and showed full appreciation. The opening piece "Unneighborly Neighbors" is full of fun from start to finish. "Why Jones Reformed" by Boggs and Haeward is a clever comedy by these two excellent actors. The singing by Lillian Leslie and Ethel Dixon was excellent, the new Hawaiian verse added to the latter song of All Nations, has made a great hit. Al Hazard with his automotons is good every night. Same program for this evening.

RIDER'S NECK IS BROKEN FIRST YEAR IN AMERICA

DEATH DUE TO UNMANAGEABLE HORSE.

Series of Misadventures in Waimea Valley, Kauai—Oscar Roth's Horse Drops Dead Under Him.

WAIMEA, Kauai, August 10.—The road up the valley from this place was the theater of a fatality and a chain of misadventures last Saturday night. A native boy employed on Gay & Robinson's ranch started up the valley about 10 o'clock at night riding a wild and only partly broken horse. As many native do, he thrust his knees through the stirrup leathers to keep the horse from throwing him. About a mile and a half up the valley, the horse became unmanageable, as it is supposed, and in his frenzy threw himself and his rider, killing both. The native had his neck broken and must have been killed instantly.

Some time later, Theodore Blackstadt was returning to Waimea from a hunt up the valley. In the darkness he came upon the bodies of the man and horse without seeing them until he was almost on them. His horse became frightened and threw him, but without seriously injuring him.

Blackstadt immediately notified the people of Waimea and securing help, took proper care of the body of the native preparatory to burial. That same night, but still later, Oscar Roth of Mana, was returning from the same hunt at which Blackstadt had been a guest. When about half way home, his horse suddenly dropped dead under him.

KAUNAKAKAI WHARF.

Is Nearly Completed—Water Street Above Kamalo Lands.

KAUNAKAKAI, August 10.—The new wharf at this port is nearly completed. It is built of stone for some distance from the shore and beyond that of piles. A railroad track will be built to the end of the wharf so that material and products can be carried both ways to any part of the American Sugar Company's plantation. The locomotive to be used in this work is already set up and is as large as those in use on the Oahu railroad.

Water of fine quality and in volume about 5,000,000 gallons a day has been struck up above the Kamalo lands. It has to be pumped a considerable height.

THE SHAMROCK.

A New York Yachtman Gives His Opinion.

NEW YORK, July 31.—A prominent New York Yachtman who is in London cables the following in regard to the Shamrock:

"I am convinced that this boat far surpasses any yacht ever floated in English waters. Our friends must not be too confident. The Columbia will have all she can do even if she is all her people say she is. My conclusion, after a most careful survey is that the Shamrock is 30 minutes faster than the Britannia never before was in as good a shape as in these trials.

The Prince of Wales is a true sportsman and he spared nothing to make her fit. I may as well say it plainly, he did it to counteract Dunraven's nasty work. Dunraven has left nothing undone that vulgar intrigue and malignity could contrive to injure Lipton and discredit the Shamrock. I predict it will be even money before the middle of September."

THE INDIANA.

The transport Indiana, now in port, brought a "Filipino Village" to San Francisco for the Omaha Exposition. It included 33 men, 12 women and a lot of children, water buffalo, ponies, birds, vehicles and bamboo and other material for the houses.

There was some trouble at first in landing the Filipinos on account of the contract labor laws. But this was overcome and they are now at Omaha.

Celebration of Anniversary Begins Tonight.

The Grand State Ball at the Executive Building—Holiday Tomorrow—Ride Contests at Kakaako.

This is the evening of the grand state ball in honor of the first anniversary of the hoisting of the stars and stripes over the Hawaiian Islands. As previously stated the function will take place in the Executive building, and the general public is invited. Full dress will be the rule, though many will consult their own comfort in this matter.

Yesterday, last night and to-day, the electricians and decorators have been busy with the big building. The light effects are already being arranged. There will be 700 colored lamps running on symmetrical lines over and about the towers, around the eaves of the lobbies and down to the moat. The great electric flag will appear on the face of the central tower. It will be thickly studded with red, white and blue lights, so arranged that all the stripes, the blue field and the stars, will be vividly displayed. The lights were tried last night and the effect was entirely satisfactory. The interior decorations will be entirely floral. On the front lobby will appear numerous potted ferns and palms. The band will play in the hall. Just inside of the door, and extending down both walls of the hallway, will be ferns and palms. The rear lobby, where refreshments will be served, will be a most a garden of pretty floral specialties. "The same may be said of the old throne room, which will be the dance hall of the evening. Potted plants will be set down on all sides, about the entrance and the windows. The room will be cleared of chairs, save for a few in the nooks.

The reception will begin at 9 o'clock sharp. It will take place in the old throne room. Immediately following this, dancing will begin. The program will be entirely in the hands of the hosts, the Cabinet Ministers. It has been arranged to turn the Interior Office into a ladies' dressing room. Gentlemen will use the room off the Finance Office.

Tomorrow all Government offices, the banks and many of the business houses in town will be closed. Some of the retail establishments will not be able to shut on account of the occasion falling on a Saturday. However, the holiday will be quite general. The principal event of the day will be the match shooting of the H. R. A. at Kakaako Butte. This will begin at 9 a. m. and will last until 5 p. m. H. C. Orvendon will be master of the range, though all the officers of the association will be present with four other Japanese and prizes to be given have already been published.

JAPANESE WITH OPIUM.

Steward of the Boston. Fined $250 for Landing the Drug.

Fujiwara was fined $250 in the police court this morning for having opium in possession and paid over the money. This man is a steward on the Boston. He came ashore near Brewer's wharf in company with four other Japanese. Customs Guard George Kaomea saw something in his hand, and investigating, found it was a tin of opium. Twenty more tins were found on him. Kaomea arrested the man and telephoned for Inspector Mauley. Fujiwara was taken to the police station, where he was released on bonds of $250, furnished by Murata & Company. Fujiwara as well as his companions all speak English well.

THE "PAPER" ON THE WALL.

The sale of season tickets for the Magle Moore H. R. Roberts engagement opened very satisfactorily yesterday. It will continue until Wednesday next, when seats for single performances can be secured. The company will arrive Friday by the Alameda. The big posters and show bills are being pasted today, and by night the dead walls all over town will be aflame with big theatrical "paper."

THE STATION'S VALUE.

The value of the plains fire station was exemplified this morning during the blaze at Hopper's planning mill. While the town engines were out all the machinery of that house was ready to respond in a second to an alarm from any quarter. The incident illustrated the great importance of the institution as a reserve force.

RITUAL CASE.

LONDON, July 31.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Rev. Frederick Temple, D. D., today rendered a decision in the ritual cases, which he and the Archbishop of York heard in May. The Archbishop declares that the use of incense and the carrying of lights in a procession are neither enjoined nor permitted by the law of the Church of England.

1895 .....19,526,000 bottles
1896 .....21,973,000 bottles

The ever-increasing popularity and the pre-eminence of Apollinaris are clear to all from the foregoing quantities bottled at the Apollinaris Spring, Rhenish, Prussia.

Far exceeding the fillings of any other mineral spring in the world. The "Times," London, says, regarding Apollinaris: "These figures are more eloquent than words."

PLANNING MILL BURNED OUT

FIRE DESTROYS MACHINERY AT HOPPER'S.

Interior of Building Was Aflame all Night, But Blaze Was Not Discovered Until This Morning.

Hopper's planning mill on Fort street below Queen was burned out last night. The alarm was given by a Custom House guard at 5:30 this morning. There was an immediate response from the three fire houses in the town center. When the engines arrived upon the scene it was to find smoke issuing from small cracks in the windows and doors. The building is what is called a fire-proof structure. It is of brick and has closely fitting iron windows and doors. When the doors were opened a dense cloud of smoke shot out and the whole interior, lower floor, burst into flames. Water was gotten in a short time, however, and in a few minutes the blaze was thoroughly under control.

The lower floor of the mill is a complete wreck. It is there that the most valuable and important machinery is located. What is not ruined by fire was destroyed by the action of water, fire and smoke together. Up stairs, on the second floor, the principal damage was done by water. Some rice, rice bags and other light material stored there were burned. The place was flooded by water and everything was more or less ruined.

The damage to the building itself is slight. No impression was made by the fire upon its walls. The ceiling is buckled through in several places and most of it will have to be renewed. Posts are charred and will also have to be replaced. The loss can not yet be told. It will be necessary to figure on the actual value of each piece of machinery before that can be determined. The machinery, etc., is insured for $5500, out of which the net loss could probably be replaced. There is another loss, however, which the amount of insurance will not satisfy, and that is the closing of the mill while repairs are being made. It is a very busy season and each day's work amounts to considerable.

There is hardly a doubt but that the fire was caused by friction between a section of the belt shaft and a wooden post in the rear end of the mill. Sawdust had probably accumulated in the crevice and formed fuel for a spark. The fire perhaps had its origin when the heated machinery was being stopped for the night, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The mill closed at 5 o'clock and doors and windows were tightly locked. There is hardly a doubt but that the spark from the machinery gradually worked into the post, set fire to it and the blaze moved slowly upward and to the floor beneath. The floor was covered with saw dust and other light material, which conveyed the flames to every part of the building and under the machinery. It is almost certain that the fire kept up all night. The closed nature of the building held the flames in check and at the same time prevented a sight of the light from the street.

The Custom House guard who turned in the alarm saw smoke coming from the second story windows. He reported the exact location of the fire—something seldom done—and the engines went straight to it.

HONOLULU "TATTERSALL"

LIVE STOCK MARKET FOR THE ISLANDS.

Plans and Purposes of the Newly Incorporated Honolulu Stock Yards Company—Ground Bought, Building.

Honolulu is to have a "Tattersall." It is to be equal in appointments to the best similar institutions anywhere, and will provide facilities that have never existed here before, for buying and selling horses and mules and all kinds of live stock.

The Honolulu Stock Yards Company has just been incorporated with a capital of $100,000 and with authority to increase it from time to time, as it is needed. A number of Island men who have long been prominent as breeders or dealers in live stock, are interested, as well as two or three men from the Coast, who have had experience in similar undertakings. The promoter of the enterprise is W. S. Withers who will be its general manager. The other officers of the company are: V. H. Rice, president; T. B. Richards, vice-president; Frank Hustace, treasurer; A. Newhouse, secretary; and L. de L. Ward, auditor.

The company proposes to establish a market, where intending purchasers can go to get any kind of live stock, and to which sellers can consign their stock assured that it will be properly taken care of dealt with in a business like way. At present if a man on the other island has horses to sell, he must either have to come here with them and stay with them until he finds purchasers. The company proposes to furnish a market to which live stock can be consigned.

To carry out its plans the company has purchased a large plot of land between King street and Hustace avenue, fronting on South street, 440 feet with a maximum depth of 312 feet. Plans have been drawn, and bids are now being received for a two-story building 200 by 30 feet. The front part of the first floor will be a space 80 by 100 feet for hitching and unhitching, two driveways leading to it from the street. This space will be free from posts and obstructions as the roof is to be trussed.

The rear of this will be stalls for 150 horses, many of the stalls being mosquito proof box stalls. On the second floor in this part of the building will be kept the feed. The second floor in the front part of the building will be the carriage repository and harness room. The company will conduct an up-to-date, modern livery. It will have vehicles of the latest mode and of a number of styles, such as Victoria and Broughams never brought here before. It will have sufficient capital to keep a large stock both of vehicles and animals for customers to choose from.

One of the specific purposes of the company will be the importation of live stock, and a specialty will be made of sugar plantation mules. It is intended to establish a stock market on the island, which would indicate a central live stock market for the Hawaiian Islands.

KALIHU-WAENA CHURCH.

Building Completed—Meeting of Congregation and Friends Called.

The new Catholic church at Kalihua-Waena is now entirely finished and is a handsome though modest structure. Rev. Father Clement who ministers to the congregation which will worship in it, has called a meeting for Sunday afternoon next, August 13 at 3 p. m. to devote plans for meeting the building expenses of the church. To this meeting are invited all members of the congregation and friends. The subject of pews will be considered at the meeting, and it is also decided when the dedicatory services shall be held. An earnest request to all interested, to be present, is made.

The church building was designed by Father Valentine and was largely built from funds raised at the bazaar held on the grounds of St. Louis college, in which Mrs. Luther Wilcox and Mrs. Houghtailing were leading spirits.

MORE OF THEM USED.

There are probably more Singer sewing machines used in the United States than of any other one make. This is a very excellent guarantee that they are one of the very best machines. The points of merit are strength, durability, easy running and simple construction. Very little mechanism to get out of order makes repairs bills small. When in need of a new sewing machine examine the Singer before purchasing any other make. B. Bergeron, agent, Bethel street.

Owl lunch room is located opposite Criterion barber shop, Fort street.

BOY GIVEN IMPRISONMENT

DAVID KUI MUST BREAK ROCK SIX MONTHS.

Motion to Send Him to Reformatory School Falls in Court—Juror Fined $5 for Tardiness.

David Kui, the boy who slashed Arthur McColgan in Palama a few weeks ago, was before Judge Stanley this morning for sentence and was given six months on the reef at hard labor. His attorney, Mr. Sullivan, entered the plea that on account of the youth of the accused he should be sent to the Reformatory school instead. This was not allowed. The case will be remembered. McColgan and Kui were in a gang of hoodlums at the end of the trainway track at Palama. They got into a fight during which Kui was knocked down. Upon reaching his feet he whipped out a penknife and stabbed McColgan. It was feared for a long time that the injured boy would die, but he recovered sufficiently to appear in court and testify against his assailant.

On motion of Attorney General Cooper, the following cases were this morning moved on the regular calendar: J. M. Alenda, selling liquor; S. Nobrega, adulterating milk. Both of these matters will be regularly called before a foreign jury next week.

The case of Genghi, assault with intent to murder, was called for court this morning, whereupon Attorney Atkinson, for the defendant, moved a postponement until Monday. Allowed.

Paul Manini, malicious injury, was carried over to Monday. Kanahue, gambling, was passed for the present. There was a motion to pass to the next term on account of the illness of defendant.

The civil case of W. P. Hoopit, et al. vs. Kananahue, quieting title, will be finished during this afternoon. This matter has been on since yesterday noon. J. M. Poepele is attorney for plaintiff, and Cecil Brown appears for defendant.

Yesterday afternoon Juror Joseph Richards was 20 minutes late in putting in an appearance and the court had to wait on him. His excuse was adjudged insufficient and he was fined $5.

It has been stipulated between respective counsel in the matter of the estate of Malinu Molwai that the same be postponed to the November term of the circuit court. Magoon & Sullivan for petitioner; Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan for contestants.

Appeals from the district magistrate of Honolulu to the circuit court have been perfected in the following cases: Allen & Robinson, assumption; Julia Opunui vs. Kalamna Puahi, general issue. These matters will come before the November term.
